

THE OPPO

Sleepers - A shadowy group that attempts to suppress public awareness of the supernatural. Mystics who get "noisy" (who let the mundanes see magic) risk waking the "sleeping tiger." They'll make the mundanes riot. It's your job to keep magiciansss quiet, the public soothed, and the tiger asleep. Rock-a-bye, baby.

Tenebrae have a Bite skill of 60%, they flee after being hit once. In dim light, they do damage like a hand-to-hand strike. In full dark, their damage is like a knife attack (+3 damage, miss damage, worse damage on crits and matched successes).

THE DARKNESS

No, seriously, you legally had your first name changed to "The" and last name to "Darkness."

IN SHORT: You are committed to being the embodiment of the dark. That means secrecy. The more people kept in the dark about legit magick, the better. Thus, you're in the Sleepers.

THE WORST THING THAT EVER HAPPENED

TO YOU: They called it clinical depression with fugue features, but it wasn't psychological. It was spiritual. The darkness, the stillness, the cessation of movement and ignition... it's not good or bad, it just is. When you couldn't escape it, you made your peace. You have an inner stillness now that you can extend outward, so you feel the void, the absence. People think it's scary, but it's not as scary as what people do to each other when paying attention. Indifference is far less menacing than sadism.

WHERE YOU ARE NOW: You are trying to show people the beauty of the stillness and, if they can't get that, how to be OK with its inescapability. You teach yoga and zen meditation, and you play in a folk music band, trying to get people to understand that music really is about the silence between the notes. But mostly that's just necessary light to enable you to spread the gospel of tranquil darkness. Like a bodhisattva, you remain in light in order to show others the value of being quenched.

YOUR INTRODUCTION TO THE OCCULT:

It's been a long path to being OK with darkness, and along the way you steered into the ignorant idea of "dark" being equal to "evil." You never killed anyone, but you brought a lot of pain to people around you—pain that you now recognize as a symptom of consciousness or "illumination" being turned in on itself. The reality of the world's entropy, the quiet chaos, does not visit itself upon the suffering but on the forgotten. The servants of shadow, the mystic tenebrae, attend the deaths of those whom all others have permitted to fall from the light of human regard.

WHY ARE YOU WILLING TO DRIVE TO CANADA AND PREVENT A BURGLARY?:

When Guadalupe told you about this project, you meditated on it and felt that this stone head is a radiant object, bright with power. When energy is added into a system, the system becomes more complex... more illuminated. If your role is to embody the virtue of stillness, of the darkness, it is your place to keep this object away from those who would use it, in the same way you'd keep a lit match away from a crate of firecrackers.

YOUR DARKNESS

You know a tune that makes darkness embody itself as a scuttling creatures, arachnid or crustacean, always impenetrably matte black. You can only summon the tenebrae in dim light or total darkness. If it's absolute blackout conditions, you think you get between 6-20, but it's hard to know for sure. In the dim, it's usually 6-12. In full-on dark, they can tear people apart in seconds. In the dim, they seem... like pitbulls, only they never vocalize? They're a mystery even to you, but they're part of the darkness and will never hurt you.

YOUR CABAL

- Mansteel: A blustering empty suit, acting like a child's idea of a man.
- Chirp: Fools others with the dewy-lipped ingenue act, but not you. Her spirit is on fire with contradictory identities. You watch her like a hawk. If she could get away with it, she'd kill you for a hot dog and a fun-sized Snickers bar. You, or anybody else.
- Count Volpo: He has found himself a new light, one alien to human civilization, and now he commutes between it and the everyday life of the manager of Pancake Town. How long can he keep up this balancing act? Eh. How long does anybody?
- Guadalupe: Her most impressive cures are not carried out by herbs, but by something that holds annihilation in its mouth the way you do, or perhaps even more surgically precise. You think she understands this, at least partially.
- Roger Crowne: This is a man who has a creed, and plans to stick by it through thick and thin. He is feverish with the bright illness of consciousness and intoxicated on freely choosing to give his freedom away. Very dangerous.
- Harper Grilsh: Another Sleeper from your hometown in New Mexico; another life illumined by occult tragedy. Harper is trying to control something mad and perilous. So far, it's a success, but some day whatever warped force Harper is working with needs to be smothered.
